Scouting Exposition Held at Fair Grounds

More than 1500 boys from 56 Boy Scout Troops and Cub packs showed parents and friends what scouting is all about last weekend at the Northwest District Scouting Exposition held at the Lake County Fair grounds.

The exposition ran for two days and featured both indoor and outdoor displays and activities along the theme of the Scout motto, "Be Prepared."

One of the main features of the program were the Indian ceremonial dances put on by the Scouts in authentic costumes. The exposition was attended by over 6000 visitors who came to inspect the various projects.

Audiences Respond to "Gold in the Hills"

Ahe off-fashioned melodrama, "Gold in the Hills," was performed by Palette, Masque & Lyre members last Friday and Saturday. The audience for both performances were just what the actors ordered. Entering into the spirit of things—a spirit enhanced by player-piano music, colorful costumes, a handpainted stage curtain, and old-fashioned footlights—the audience became part of the show.

The evil machinations of the villain (Al Bucar) were given their just due with many a boo and hiss. The rescues by the hero (Larry Landis) were roundly applauded. And the paths of the heroine (Gerri Duncan), and her father (Jim Corrigan) brought earnest signs of sympathy.

Two more performances will be presented next Friday and Saturday nights, May 28 and 29, PM&L invites one and all to an entertaining evening of live, 1890 theatre. Audiences are urged to bring plenty of cheers and hisses but to please leave cabbages and tomatoes at home.

Antioch Chamber Luncheon Meeting

Commerce will hold a Board of Directors meeting Tuesday evening, June 1. The next general membership meeting will be held on Monday, June 7. It will be a noon luncheon at Wensel's Lounge. This will be a business meeting only. No program is being planned.

E. J. Rowley Named Allendale Director

Edward J. Rowley, formerly assistant director at Allendale School for Boys, has been appointed director of the school, it was announced recently.

In naming Rowley, Allendale president William S. North said, "The Board of Trustees and the Executive Committee recognize the 7½ years of service Mr. Rowley has given Allendale in all phases of the program and that he is primarily responsible for the change in philosophy of service to boys in recent years."

Allendale has come a long way from a strictly custodial institution to where the school now offers a solid program of emotional and social rehabilitation to troubled boys.

Mr. Rowley has been the driving force in this transition. We (the trustees) acknowledge and applaud Mr. Rowley's efforts.

Hatfield Is Speaker At GOP Dinner

Governor Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon will be the featured speaker at the Lake County Republican Federation's spring dinner on May 29.

There will be election of Federation officers and board members.

The Armour home, in a history of Lake Forest, was described as "the most pretentious of all the beautiful homes in Lake Forest."

Rowley replaces Richard A. Leavell as director of the 82-boy, 125-acre home and school in Lake Villa. Mr. Leavell has had to resign due to health reasons.

The new director is the fifth director in Allendale's 67-year history of distinguished service to boys from broken and inadequate homes. He holds a degree from Greenville College, Greenville, Illinois, and came to Allendale in 1958 as "boys' counselor."

He was named assistant director in June, 1964. Mr. Rowley is married and has four children. He lives on the Allendale campus with his family.

Rate Changes For Phone Users Soon

A filing of new intrastate long distance schedules by Illinois Bell Telephone on May 20 is the first step in a series of rate adjustments being negotiated by the Illinois Commerce Commission which would make possible annual customer savings of about $6,160,000. These savings, added to those resulting from other intrastate and interstate rate changes since 1961, would bring the total to more than $22,000,000.

Announcement of the filing was made by James W. Karber, Commission chairman. He said the action was being taken as a part of the Commission's program of regular surveillance of all utilities under its jurisdiction.

Effect of the proposed rate schedules for within-state long distance calling would be an immediate saving of nearly $2,000,000 annually to Illinois users, Karber indicated. The remaining $4,160,000 in savings would become effective later in the year, he said.

The new long distance rates are filed to be effective on June 19. Hours during which reduced rates are in effect are extended. They would be the same as those now in effect for interstate long distance. Lowest rates would apply any time on Sunday, and after 8 p.m. on other days. This the maximum rate for a three-minute station call within Illinois during any of these periods would be 50 cents. Saturday station rates also would be reduced.

The new method of measuring distances, made possible by the advent of computer technology, would be used to determine long distance charges. The intrastate station "mileage" steps also would be adopted for person-to-person calling. These changes would involve some minor increases and decreases in station and person-to-person rates, mostly of a nickel or a dime, it was pointed out.

Other Illinois Bell proposals are before the Commission. They are optional services which would wipe out hundreds of thousands of short-haul toll charges by offering wider-range, local calling in Illinois communities outside the Chicago Metropolitan Calling Area.

Telephone customers would be offered optional unlimited calling plans and other types of services with discounted prices for volume usage. Some of these services would be similar to the Jim Corrigan, pool manager, advises swimming enthusiasts that there is still time to get their season passes at a reduced rate. Effective June 1st the rate for family memberships will go up to $27.00. Passes can be purchased at the State Bank of Antioch during banking hours.

You can get information of the program at the Aqua Center after Memorial Day.

Wrecks Jail Cell, Taken to County

Daniel Guthrie, 24, of Main Street, Antioch, was transferred to the Lake County Jail in Waukegan early this week after being arrested for disorderly conduct. Guthrie broke a light fixture, ripped a mattress and two blankets in the Antioch jail before he was transferred to Waukegan.

Guthrie was found lying in an alley behind 907 Main Street by Chief John Heick and Patrolman Emil Ehrlert at 12:25 a.m. Sunday. Guthrie jumped up and attacked the two officers when they attempted to approach him and had to be overpowered and taken to the police station.

He began beating on the bars and continued fighting and using abusive language, causing the transfer to Waukegan. Guthrie was booked for disorderly conduct and bond was set at $200. "He was to have a mental hearing," Chief Heick said.

Census Takers Count 2778 Heads

Census-takers completed their work this week in Antioch and came up with a total of 2778 people in the Village. The breakdown was 1348 men and 1430 women according to census director Terrence E. O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien, Supervisor for Special Census from the Federal Bureau of Census, was aided by John Dupre, John Horan, Mrs. Bernard Gutowski, Mrs. Gerald Van-Patten and Mrs. Richard Radke.

The total count will be used as a basis for figuring motor fuel tax refunds to the village. Motor fuel tax refunds are on a per capita basis.

Because Memorial Day falls on Sunday this year, Monday is an official holiday. The postoffice, banks, and most businesses will be closed in Antioch.

Several of the local schools, however, will be open on May 31, the official holiday. Antioch High School, Antioch Grade School, Oakland School, Channel Lake School and Grass Lake School will be open as usual. St. Peter's School and Emmons Grade School will not hold classes on May 31.

3 Teachers Still Needed At ACHS

One teacher resigned and two were employed at last Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Education of Antioch Community High School.

The resignation of Mrs. Mabel Olbrecht was accepted by the board. Miss Darleen Jaschob, West Bend, was hired as Home Economics teacher. Miss Jaschob will graduate from Stout University this spring.

Mrs. Jana Schuelke was employed as an instructor in English Speech and also as sponsor of the school newspaper. Three teachers are still needed at the school, according to Superintendent Albert Dittman.

A 21-minute program of colored slides with narration, compiled by Dennis Sullivan, audio-visual aids coordinator, and Miss Diane Busch, librarian, was shown to the board.

The film illustrates the various services available in the school library and procedure in using them. Two students were used as actors for the film. The program will be shown to incoming freshmen next fall to acquaint them with the library facilities, Mr. Dittman said. "I think some of the local clubs, such as the Woman's Club, would find this an interesting addition to a program," Dittman remarked.

An Investment Committee for 1965-66, composed of William Brook, Mrs. Helen Kopriva and Dr. Al Bucar, was appointed. The committee will make certain that all surplus funds are invested as soon as possible to gain interest.

A Budget & Levy Committee of Robert Lindblad, William Brook and John Blackman was appointed. A budget for 1965-66 will be submitted to the board at the June 16 meeting by the committee, with a public hearing on the budget and official adoption at the August 18 meeting.

Jack Bodine, Special Education instructor at the school, reported that his class of Educable Mentally Handicapped children contained 15 pupils this year, five of them from Antioch. The High School contributes the use of one schoolroom for this purpose as a member of the Special Education District of Lake County.

Bodine reported on methods used in the classroom; his work in Job Placement of the pupils, etc.

The board granted a diploma to Daniel Olenick, a pupil who did not graduate with his class and completed requirements by correspondence.

The bad weather last winter, causing the schools to close, is the reason for most of the schools operating on Decoration Day. Schools must operate a set number of days through the year. If classes are not held May 31, the schools will have to operate a day longer at the end of the term.

Channel Lake School is operating May 31 and closing for the day of June 7. Classes will be adjourned for the season on June 8.

The decision on whether to close on May 31 is up to the school board of each school. The practice of observing Memorial Day started in 1868, with an order from General John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. Every military post was directed to hold suitable exercises and to decorate the graves of dead comrades with flowers.

Memorial Day observances have been extended to honor the dead of the Spanish-American War, two World Wars, the Korean conflict and Viet Nam. Many now observe the day by decorating the graves of relatives and friends.

Final date to apply for the Korean Bonus is June 30, 1965, according to an announcement made today by Edward B. Akin, Administrator of the Illinois Veterans Commission.

Veterans of the Korean conflict who resided in the State of Illinois 12 months prior to induction, received the Korean Service Medal and were honorably discharged are eligible to apply. The veteran must have served in the armed forces between June 27, 1950 and July 27, 1953.

For further information and application forms you may contact H. D. Blackwell, Service Officer of the Illinois Veterans Commission at 108 South Genesee St., Waukegan, MA 3-3290. The office is open Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

Memorial Day Rally

The Cross Lake Christian Camp will hold a Memorial Day Rally on Monday, May 31, on the grounds, 2 miles north of Antioch on Cross Lake.

The Rev. Art Ortega of Saginaw, Michigan, will be guest speaker at the services, which will be held at 11 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., with special vocal and instrumental selections. The Camp administration extends an invitation to you and your families to attend.

Bring your lunch, tables will be available in the picnic area. Also boating may be enjoyed. Reservations for the summer season are being made.

Air pollution is a hazard to human health and it is extremely expensive. It costs the average American family of five over $300 a year.

Remember!

Thousands of honored war dead will be remembered on Memorial Day. Their names are inscribed on Rolls of Honor in every village and city throughout the land.

Another small army will join the ranks of the dead by June 1, 1965. An army whose names will never appear on the Rolls of Honor of the war dead. An army who will be remembered only by the friends and loved ones they leave behind.

More people will die on the nation's highways this Memorial Day week-end than have ever died in the most bitter day of fighting the nation has ever seen. A useless, futile death, a death for no patriotic cause, no principle. Just one more victim of speed, or carelessness, or recklessness.

There will be forecasts, before the three-day week-end starts, of how many will die in traffic mishaps. The forecast will be painfully accurate. Every motorist will hear them. And not even who listens will believe for a moment that he'll be one more digit in the casualty lists by Tuesday morning.

If, by some miracle of extra-sensory perception, the week-end's list of traffic dead could be printed in Friday's paper, would there be any deaths on the road?

Probably not. No one would court an untimely death if he knew he could avoid it by just staying home.

Will your name be in next week's paper? Will you be one of the hundreds who fulfill the Safety Council's forecast?

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

An intriguing proposal on the agenda of the Congress is the so-called "Truth in Packaging" bill. This measure (S. 985), sponsored principally by Senator Philip A. Hart, Democrat of Michigan, is aimed primarily at protecting the American housewife by imposing rigid Federal regulations over the labeling and packaging of consumer goods.

The Hart bill would (a) control sizes and shapes of packages, (b) specify permissible sizes of packages and limit size categories, (c) control illustrations on packages, (d) prohibit such descriptions as "giant economy size" and "5 cents off regular price," (e) compel disclosure of ingredients and composition of products.

The proposed Truth in Packaging law aimed at protecting consumers would apply to all packaged foods, drugs, cosmetics and many other consumer products. However, the American housewife, who is intended to be the chief beneficiary of this legislation, appears to be particularly wary of its provisions and impact.

In the first place, it should be noted that false labels and misrepresentations on packages constitute violations of existing law and subject offenders to severe penalties—including confiscation of unlawful packages.

Senator Hart's proposal is aimed at the confusion which may come from boastful statements on a package, or sizes, shapes or illustrations that may induce a purchase which otherwise might not be made. Manufacturers and marketing organizations, including retailers, abhor the prospect of regulation such as is threatened by the Hart bill. The standardization and stifling of initiative which would accompany enactment of this measure would seem also to thwart competition and marketing freedom—two prime ingredients of our free enterprise system.

A chief opponent of the Truth in Packaging proposal is Representative Catherine May, Republican of Washington, herself a housewife. Representative May declared recently, "Let's face it: the basis of this legislation can be summarized in a few words: It assumes the consumer's gullibility, the manufacturer's and retailer's culpability, and, finally, the bureaucrats' infallibility."

At last report Senator Hart's Truth in Packaging bill was reported to be stalled in the Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce where a tie vote among committee members was preventing the bill from progressing to the Senate floor. If the bill should pass the Senate, it will move to the House Judiciary Committee where this Member of Congress will have an opportunity to consider it directly.

And how many of these kids who were getting ready to flex their muscles in a teen gang fight turned out for the drive to raise funds for the county museum drive last week?

In the wake of the suggestion that Republican County Central Committee Chairman Robert J. Milton might seek the GOP nomination for Sheriff next spring comes the inevitable report of a deal involving the sheriff's post and the county chairmanship.

This theory would have Milton sleeping aside as chairman in favor of John Babcock, of Cuba Township, a frequent potential contender, in return for support from such county board powers as Joseph P. Welch, of Cuba, Guy Grinnell, of Libertyville, and Frank Valenta, of Grant.

Also on the sheriff's race is the rumble that a former FBI agent or Treasury Department agent is being sought by the Lake County Crime Commission as a candidate for the county's top law enforcement post.

It's probably only a coincidence, but there have been strong indications of substantial increases in the cost of meat ever since the news broke of the latest meat scandal in Illinois.

There has been considerably less hoopla connected with the present meat scandal investigation compared to the headline holiday that

Spoke to an eminent entomologist (how's that for a tongue twister?) friend of mine the other day and he informed me that June bugs are properly known as Cotinus nitida. However, we up here in the North have been living under a misapprehension all these years, for actually the dark reddish brown beetle we commonly call the June bug is in reality the May beetle, Phyllophaga. Now that you have been educated in the proper names, you can start any argument in the next few nights by proclaiming, when the buzz of wings sound on your screens, "Oh, that's just May beetles."

THE LATEST REPORT: Enough has been said about last Friday night's episode, but this writer agrees with the comment, "If those kids want to fight so bad, let's send them over to Viet Nam, and let them see what fighting really means." Amen!

If you don't think advertising is effective, consider the purple martin.

Up to the last few weeks, how much thought did you give to this particular species of bird? Or any other bird, for that matter.

Then some bird-lover who builds martin-houses decided to make the martin the state bird, displacing the colorful cardinal.

Since then, every newspaper has been flooded with reams of publicity about the virtues of purple martins; in addition to extolling the glories of the little insect-eater, the letters explore the material advantages to the state which will result from the increased number of bird houses sold.

Before you finish reading the impassioned plea for Illinois residents to adopt this bird as the state's symbol, you feel that the whole educational system of the state may fail, the economy go into a permanent slump and bread lines of the unemployed form in every community if the purple martin doesn't become the Illinois state bird.

Personally, I have a great fondness for the cheery cardinal. He suffers through the miserable winters with me, trills his liquid song in spring, and makes a lovely bright spot of color in the pine tree. The martins have ignored me, despite the fact that I raise the most and the biggest mosquitoes to be found.

I suppose someone will tell me that if I build him a home (or buy one from the gentleman who is dispensing all the literature), the martin will come to my home to stay and eat all the bugs. Why should I? I haven't built a house for the cardinal. He hangs around anyway.

No, if the martin has to be bribed to come to my house, he can jolly well go away and be someone else's state bird. I'll stick with the cardinal.

Skateboarding, or sidewalk surfing, is the younger generation's newest way of living dangerously.

The tricky skateboards, about the same thing as old-time "scooters" with the handles removed, are about as easy to control as a wild horse with the bit in its teeth. As most towns have ruled them off the sidewalks, the youngsters indulge their skateboarding craze on the streets, competing with cars and trucks.

If you've ever stepped on a wheeled object and had it shoot out from under you, you know the effect achieved when the skateboard sometimes throws a youngster. If it's any comfort to mothers suffering through this craze, the thrill seems to be as transient as most spring-time fads of the youth. In a few weeks, the skateboard will join the marbles and old hula hoop in some closet.

Dear Miss Kapell:
I think you will be interested in our answer to the Chicago Sun-Times article of Thursday, May 20th, concerning your village. I believe your residents would welcome knowing the truth concerning fuel oil.

Sincerely,
Herbert V. Hedeon
Executive Vice President
Oil Heat Council, Inc.

Following is a copy of the letter:

An article in the Sun-Times of Thursday, May 20, warned Antioch, Illinois residents of "explosive fuel oil fumes backing up into basements from village sewer lines."

The facts are that heating oil (No. 2 fuel oil) is non-explosive, is non-toxic—it has no inherent fumes dangerous to health and in its inert state is virtually non-inflammable. Consequently, residents of Antioch need not be concerned for their safety if the liquid is indeed fuel oil.

Fuel oil just can't burn until atomized in a furnace. Actual tests show that a match or even a burning on Monday.

DID YOU HEAR? Henry Morgan, driving one of the very small Peugeot sedans, stopped at a restaurant in a rural village. When he came out after his repast he found a farmer staring curiously at the tiny car. "Good morning," Morgan said. "Morning," the farmer said looking at the miniature automobile. "Picked this one before it was ripe, didn't you?"

Bye,

torch plunged into a container of fuel oil will go out instantly. Spontaneous combustion also is unknown with heating oil. It is a free-flowing, clear, champagne colored liquid.

In checking with Public Works Superintendent Simonsen, he admitted,

1. that he knew that fuel oil was non-explosive and non-toxic,
2. that he wasn't sure what the liquid is,
3. his main concern was to secure the cooperation of the village so as to find the source of the liquid.

I sincerely hope that you will print this to make partial amends for the harm that has been done to fuel oil which is the safest of heating fuels.

Sincerely,
Herbert V. Hedeon

Dear Sir:

KoKo is dead. She was three years old. Her playmate 3 years old, was spanked the evening before for crossing the same street. Now her pet is buried. Perhaps she learned from KoKo's death.

Was it a mother hurrying to the store? Was it someone on his way to mail a letter? Was it someone with his invisible blue light flashing, running stop signs and sliding around corners on his way to answer the sound of the sirens? Was it someone dragging with his shadow or checking his rpm's in first gear?

Was it an innocent driver trapped by the narrow street without room to maneuver? Today KoKo is dead.

Will the street be widened? Will traffic be controlled better? Will people quit parking in front of stop signs, fire plugs, no parking signs? Will the drivers on their daily errands or those on their errands of mercy

MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET HELD AT EV. LUTH. CHURCH

By Dol Jahneke

The mothers, daughters and grand-daughters of the Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church were royally "feted" by the Men's Club of their church on Sunday, May 23. They were served a roast beef dinner, prepared by the men, and served by the "Pioneers" (a Lutheran Church boys club). The men had even planned the entertainment for the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Smouse, Mrs. James Babusek, Mrs. James Davis, and Jerry and Ricky Smouse from the Palette, Masque and Lyre group provided a splendid program for all to enjoy. Mrs. Smouse gave a short summary of the history of the PM&L, of what they had accomplished, and their future plans.

Mrs. Babusek, who is the former Miss Florence Galliger, "Miss Chicago" of 1955, and 2nd runner-up for the "Miss America" title, was the featured singer. WANDERING MUSTACHE, belonging to Dr. Al Bucar, the villain in "Gold in the Hills." When the hero, Larry Landis, fought the villain on opening night, Al's greatest concern was trying to hold his mustache on. Unsuccessful!

HABRIED SITUATION, due to a conflicting concert, Gary Strahan as Slick Steve, and Dave Serres, as the derelict, rushed into the make-up room a scant five minutes before they were due on stage Saturday night.

DELIGHT, Jim Corrigan's marvelous interpretation of the father in "Gold in the Hills."

LOUD, Dee D'Isa's screams during the melodrama's Can-can number.

PROFESSIONAL, Florence Babusek and Ken Smouse dueling for the Lutheran Church mother-daughter banquet.

ATTRACTIVE, P M & L's new advertising curtain beautifully designed by Bob Koemoud assisted by Jackie Horton and Nancy Seyfarth.

ENTHUSIASTIC, First cast meeting for the members of the company of "The Music Man" last Monday night.

ADDITION, the player piano in our orchestra pit that entertains the audience during intermission.

WANTED, people to help publicize and sell tickets for PM&L productions.

A MUST, our SHOWCASE production of "Taming of the Shrew," presented by Chicago Workshop Theatre on our stage June 5th—especially for students. Investigate the price of student tickets.

CRITICS, every theatre is blessed by critics and PM&L is no exception. Last Friday-nite several members of the fourth grade class at Grass Lake School attended the opening night performance to see their teacher, Miss Marie Jasien, perform in the melodrama. Several critical comments were forthcoming as they are printed below without correction or censorship:

Mariann (last name not included), "I liked the play because I understood it. If you don't understand a play it would be no scene in seeing it. I like when the villain came in the room. Everyone started hissing s-s-s-s-s. The villain quoted 'curses upon you all.' I liked that statement the best. In one certain scene the villain dropped his mustache. Pat Ludford (a boy in my room) quoted 'hey mister, do you want my bubble-gum for your mustache?' I liked when they were at the bar and a lady said 'Look at the length of that skirt, its a sin.'"

Patrick Ludford, "I liked the parts where the villain walked in and everybody started hissing and booing because he was so mean. The chorus girls were real nice to. They should have been on longer."

Curt Johnson, "The villain was a good actor, and the hero was always there when he was needed. The people had very nice costumes, and they said the words clearly. I thought that one waiter with the black eye wasn't very nice. He should learn some manners. I liked the ladies hair does. The villain should keep his mustache on. I didn't like the picture in the barroom."

Jim Golez, "I liked the picture in the barroom."

Susan Davidson, "I liked the end. Boy was I surprised!"

Mike Kelley, "I liked the hair does."

John Haling, "I liked the part when Jack through the villain on the floor. Only one thing they didn't put the villain's mustash on good. Just tell them next time to put the villain's mustash on the bubble-gum 'it might hold better!'"

Well, that's show business!

Rate Changes...

Call-Pak plan introduced in Chicago and surrounding suburban exchanges last year. Reduced rates also are being considered for some business customers.

It was emphasized that all present services would be retained in all communities in which the new optional services would be offered. A formal rate filing covering the details of the proposed services "probably will be made about July 1."

Other adjustments, for which a filing would be made later this year, will include reduced "package rates" for certain key telephone services, generally used by business customers.

For Antioch customers, there presently are 1006 different rates to all points within the state. There'll be 161

Mr. L's Carousel Theatre Auditions

Have you ever had a yen to get up on a stage and belt out a popular song or draw laughter with the deft delivery of a funny line? If you've had these hankerings, now's your chance to do something about them.

Auditions have been scheduled for all types of theatrical talent, to fill the casts of this season's productions of "Mr. L's Carousel Theatre." Presentations planned are: South Pacific, The Mousetrap, West Side Story.

adjustments in station-to-station costs, of which 119, or nearly 74%, will be reductions. The remaining 42 changes are increases. The adjustments are for five cents, Illinois Bell Manager Dick Miller said.

For example, day "station" calls to Morton Grove will drop from 40c to 35c; calls to Skokie will drop from 40c to 35c, and those to Chicago will go from 40c to 45c.

Person-to-person calls from Antioch to Illinois points will be adjusted in 599 of 1006 cases. Of these adjustments, 566, or about 95%, are decreases. The remaining 33 are increases.

For example, day calls to Morton Grove will drop from 75c to 65c; to Skokie, they'll drop 5c from 70c to 65c, and to DeKalb from 85c to 80c. A sample increase is: to Chicago from 70c to 80c.

Miller noted that lowest long distance station rates within Illinois now apply any time Sunday and after 8 p.m. other days. He said these budget rates also apply to collect and credit card calls and to calls billed to a third telephone number.

Karber pointed to several factors that make the rate reduction program possible — technological improvements in the telephone business, increased operational efficiency, further reductions in the federal corporate income tax rate and the overall strength of the Illinois economy.

McClory Urges Funds For Boat Harbor

Congressman Robert McClory took the case of the small boat harbor to the House Appropriations Committee May 11. The Congressman urged an amendment to the House Public Works Appropriation bill in the sum of $8,000 in order to initiate a feasibility study upon which development of a 350-boat harbor may be based.

In his appearance before the Committee, Congressman McClory emphasized the great need for mooring facilities in the Lake County area, and declared: "The area has a great potential for individual initiative and individual community investment. From the standpoint of its being a promising project, the outlook is very good."

The Congressman also pointed out the large number of outboard motors manufactured by Johnson Motors at Waukegan, as well as the manufacture of small boats by the same company.

If funds for the study are approved by the committee and the U. S. House of Representatives, it is expected that public hearings on the development may be held later this year. The harbor project is pending in the office of Colonel John C. Mattina, District Engineer

Pack What You Need For Vacation

The motorist definitely has the upper hand when it comes to packing for a vacation trip. He can dress as he pleases, pack neatly or just throw things in the car, and hang clothing on portable hangers or in car sacks.

However, care in packing for an auto trip is just as important as care in packing for a trip by air or sea.

First, make a list of what you will need, then check off the items as you pack. Don't forget such "vacation accessories" as travelers checks, first aid kit, travel iron, camera, flashlight, vacuum jug, sun glasses, and whatever sports equipment you plan to use.

While you have the advantage of being able to take more items conveniently, the growth in use of compact and small foreign cars has made packing lightly increasingly important. The fewer non-essentials you have along the less you'll have to cope with in packing and unpacking during overnight stops.

Those rear seat hooks for coat hangers are handy, but be sure the suits and dresses are hung in such a way that they don't obscure the driver's line of vision. Never string a row of hangers across the entire rear seat.

It is preferable to pack two suitcases—a large one for the basic wardrobe and a small one for toilet articles and other overnight needs. There will be times when you won't need to disturb the larger suitcases on an overnight stop.

Give attention to that bonus for the auto traveler—the glove compartment. Throw out the bent hairpins and crumpled drinking cups. You'll find room for the first aid kit, sun glasses, notebook and pencil, aspirin, facial tissues, whisk broom, and folded wrapped wet washcloth for freshening up.

Blind Teens Join In Bike Ride

This year, as in former years, the Chicago Council of American Youth Hostels was host to a group of blind teenagers for a day of cycling. The "Ride for the Blind" is an annual event in Chicago, is sponsored and led by AYH in order to afford blind youngsters a thrill which they otherwise would not be able to enjoy.

Riding on tandem bicycles, AYH cyclists piloted their blind companions on a route through the area of Libertyville. They boarded a Milwaukee Road Bike Train on Sunday, May 16, and rode along with other cyclists to Libertyville. There they were welcomed by members of the Libertyville Chamber of Commerce. A suitable route had already been prepared and marked for members of the Bike Train.

As reported by the Visual Foundation for the Blind, Mrs. Ruth Coleman, the youngsters had been looking forward to this event for many weeks. The thrill of a bicycle ride in the country air has kept them in expectant excitement, and, she says, they talked of nothing else.

This event is intended to show that the joys of cycling can be experienced by people of all walks of life and that cycling is a sport with few limitations.

The annual "Ride for the Blind" is a public service performed by American Youth Hostels. The basic purpose of AYH is to introduce the outdoors and outdoor sports to young and old.

Red Cross Offers Lifesaving Course

The Lake County Region of the American Red Cross will offer free Senior Lifesaving Courses to Lake County youngsters wanting to become lifeguards this summer.

A Red Cross Senior Lifesaving Certificate is the usual requirement for a job as lifeguard.

A number of requests have been made, along with inquiries on how a new course is formed. The Red Cross will offer a course if at least 12 youngsters show an interest in attending at any one location in the county.

Candidates must be at least 16 years old, and must be a competent swimmer. If a student is not already a strong swimmer, his chances of successfully completing a Senior Lifesaving Course is not good, the Red Cross has found.

The Senior Lifesaving Course includes a minimum of 17 hours of instruction by an authorized Water Safety Instructor.

Young people interested in taking a Senior Lifesaving Course should call the Red Cross at 602-4044. They will receive information about where and when courses will be offered later.

The Red Cross is also offering free Learn-to-Swim courses for younger children in public and private pools. More courses could be offered if more pools were made available. If you own a pool and would like to co-sponsor a course for children in your neighborhood, call the Red Cross.

ZONING AMENDMENT REQUIREMENTS

A county board must cast a favorable three-fourth vote of all of its members to pass a zoning amendment where an objection is filed by a zoning municipality when the proposed amendment is one affecting the entire county. Attorney General William G. Clark has advised State's Attorney L. E. Ellison of Whiteside county.

PMA Urges More Milk For Children

Pure Milk Association has urged the Senate appropriations committee to appropriate $110 million for the special school milk program instead of the $100 million which the U. S. department of agriculture has proposed in its budget.

In a letter to all members of the committee, Avery A. Vose, PMA president, emphasized that the nation's population and enrollment in schools is increasing drastically and therefore an appropriation of $110 million is needed to keep the program as effective as in previous years.

He said the department's request for $100 million for the special school milk program is $3 million below the amount appropriated for the current year.

Sequoits Shatter Four Records, Win Track Crown

Antioch's track squad broke four conference records, tied another and waltzed off with the Northwest Suburban Conference track crown Saturday on Antioch's cinders.

The Sequoits, hosts of the meet, racked up 73 points, placing in every event, to top their nearest competitor 33 points. The final results were Antioch 73, Grant 40, Wauconda 34, Elva-Vernon 32, Warren 13, Grayslake 12, Lake Forest 6 and Round Lake 0.

In the morning's field events Bob Flood captured the shot put title with a record loss of 52' 2 3/4". Tyrone Walls made it a one-two effort by finishing second with 51' 5 1/2" throw. Flood also finished third in the discus and Walls took fourth in the broad jump.

Bob Schonk, favored in the high jump in early predictions managed only a third in the event finishing behind teammate Don Johnson. Johnson went a height of 5' 8" to finish second behind Bob Scott of Wauconda. Jim Edwards took second place points in the broad jump behind Bill Baumgartner of Elva-Vernon and Smith won a fourth in the pole vault to round out the point total for the Sequoits in the field events.

Bruce Dalgaard set a new record in the 120 yard high hurdles, nosing out Scott of Wauconda. Dalgaard shaved .3 seconds off the three year old record with a 14.9 time. The old record was held jointly by Stenzel of Palatine and J. Koepke of Warren.

Tom Morgan, having quite a day for himself, tied the 100 yard dash record of 10.1 to take the first place honors. This is the second straight year Morgan has tied the record held by Ken Truelsen of Antioch. Later in the afternoon he anchored the 880 relay team to a new conference record of 1:34.2. The old record of 1:34.3 was set last year by Wauconda. Morgan ran the final leg behind

Edwards, Dalgaard and Dave Fabry.

Just to prove he wasn't through yet, Morgan came back to run the 220 yard dash in 21.9 seconds, breaking Truelsen's four year old mark by .4 seconds.

Tom DeNovo of Wauconda shattered another Truelsen record when he ran the 180 yard low hurdles in 10.5 seconds. Truelsen's old mark was 20.2. Dalgaard finished second in the event.

Steve Welter of Grant broke his own pole vaulting record with a vault of 12' 1/2", bettering his old mark by 1/2".

Professional motorcycle racing will make its debut on Memorial Day afternoon, Sunday, May 30th, at the Walworth County Fairgrounds in Elkhorn, Wis. The program will be held on the fairground's half-mile dirt track. Two heat races and five mile feature will be held in each of the Expert and Amateur and Novice classes. The 16 fastest qualifiers in the expert and amateur division will make up the heat races, while the novices will run a series of three lap qualifying races to make up their heat positions. Time trials are set for 12:30 p.m. with the first race going at 2 p.m. The event is part of a 3-day, 3 race holiday weekend which will open on Saturday night at Pecatonica, and will conclude at Cedarburg, Wis., and will pay a combined purse of $2,700 for the three races.

The Elkhorn track is located 45 miles southwest of Milwaukee and eight miles north of Lake Geneva on Highway Junctions 11, 12 and 15.

LEE MAYFIELD attempted to grab the lead from Marty Martin in the jolopy portion of the Saturday night races recently at Waukegan Speedway. Mayfield, shown on two wheels, enjoyed a brief lead before flipping through the turn. He was not injured.

Weatherman Wins Friday, Burgan Wins Feature Sat.

A thunderstorm at qualifying time stopped the modified and late model stock car racing Friday night at the Waukegan Speedway. Seven modifieds were in the pits including ones to be piloted by the popular USAC late model driver, Bay Darnell, of Deerfield; and the ten lap record holder, Gregg Krieger, of West Allis.

Big fields of cars are expected for all three dates next weekend, including these and many other top modified drivers.

Burgan Snatches Feature

It took hard charging Dennis Burgan, Saturday night, May 22, in his Studebaker Lark, 15 laps to overtake all of the cars to capture the 20 lap late model stock car feature at the Waukegan speedway Saturday night.

Earlier in the evening, Burgan set a new qualifying mark of .18.88 seconds and then, as the track grew faster, was clocked in the 18th lap of the feature at a sizzling .17.32.

This win boosted Burgan into second spot in the point standings, just a scant 15 points short of Jim Cossman and his yellow Chevy. Jim Luther rounds out the top three in a Ford, pointing out the three car battle which has developed among Chevy, Studebaker and Ford.

The feature was stopped in the opening lap when Odell Jones spun his new Ford convertible. On the restart Dick Friedman set the pace for three laps before crashing headon into the starting stand.

By this time Luther had worked his way to the front with John Hood, Cossman and Burgan right on his tale. Burgan passed the champion, Cossman, on the eighth lap, but fell back again until the tenth circuit when he passed Cossman a second and final time.

With Hood dropping out, Burgan inherited second spot and then squeezed by Luther five laps later to race on to the win.

Ester in Spectacular Crash

Jack Ester, last year's number two point man made his second appearance of the young season Saturday night. In a fast, close race Ester edged Ken Becker and Burgan in the opening trophy dash.

Then on the last lap of the third heat, Ester, having the lead, smacked the wall coming out of the fourth turn. The determined Ester rebounded into a long slide down the homestretch ramming the wall at the finish line head-on.

In the meantime, Becker and Cossman, in a wheel to wheel duel, slipped up beside the spinning Ester to create a photo-finish for the top three spots, Ester winning. Although Ester's Chevy was too badly damaged to compete in the feature, he states that repairs will be

Indy "500" Will Go To "Charger"

By Jim Hurtubise
Veteran Indianapolis "500" Driver

During the early days of racing, the winning drivers at Indianapolis were veterans who planned their race-day strategy well in advance and carried it out in every detail.

In recent years, the situation has changed. The 500-mile classic on May 31 will be won by a "charger"—the driver who drives his car as fast as he can for as long as he can. For this reason, the early part of the Indy "500" will be a real thriller as all of the contenders will be battling for the No. 1 spot, as soon as the Plymouth pace car completes the parade lap.

With that fact in mind, I plan to start with a full fuel tank in an effort to hold my pit stop time to a minimum and to go the full 500-mile distance on only two fast pit stops. Because of the excellence of the cars and the probable speeds which are certain to be record breaking, the driver who spends the least amount of time in the pits will have a decided advantage.

Although it was 1962 before any Indianapolis driver qualified for the race at a speed in excess of 150 miles per hour, it only took eight years to make the 10-mile jump from 140 to 150.

Last year, all but three of the 33 drivers qualified their cars at speeds in excess of 150 miles per hour, and the pole position was taken by Jimmy Clark with a hot qualifying speed of 158.828.

Clark's speed won't be fast enough to regain the pole position this year. It is going to have to be in excess of 160 miles per hour, and I believe that several cars will be on hand to break that "magic" barrier.

Indianapolis Champion Ray Harroun dazzled spectators in 1911 with his average speed for the 500-mile classic of 74.59 miles per hour. It was not until 1925 that the magic 100 miles per hour for the distance was achieved by racing great, Peter DePaolo, who turned a 100.448 for the "500."

It was only 11 years ago that the speed for the 500-mile distance hit 130 miles an hour. That was 1954 when the late Bill Vukovich wheeled into the winner's circle with an average of 130.840. Since then it has climbed to the record achieved by A. J. Foyt last year of 147.350.

This year's classic promises to be the richest in history, with a purse of $500,000. It will also be record-setting from start to finish. I'm certain all the drivers have the same thing in mind that I do: charge into first place on the first lap and then charge all the way home.

Weatherman Wins...

completed in time for next weekend's events.

The Saturday night jalopy racing and roll-over contest also kept fans on the edge of their seats. Joe Miller of Gurnee, took the nastiest flip of the evening off the roll-over ramp, but continued on for more punishment.

The figure-8 race ended in a three-way tie as Bob Klemm flipped at the cross-roads with Jim Newlin ramming the overturned machine and Butch Anderson piling into both of them.

Incidentally, Newlin entered his Buick on the spur of the moment after driving it to the races as a spectator. Added excitement will come next weekend as the women drivers will also be crunching fenders in the jalopy competition along with the men.

Next weekend will be the highest of the young racing season. Friday night, the modifieds will present their popular program in combination with the late models.

Then on Saturday night the late models will compete in a full card of Spring Championship racing, topped by a 35 lap feature and all of the jalopy antics. Then a special Sunday night show will see the roaring modifieds in a 50-lap Memorial Day classic feature with added jalopy events.

Both this Saturday and Special Sunday night show will offer double-championship points as even added incentive.

The Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness states that approximately 15,000 Americans every year go blind unnecessarily. Protect your vision by developing sound eye health and eye care habits.

Rifles Coach Picks Aids

Roger Kane, head football coach of the newly formed Lake County Rifles semi-professional football team, has appointed his coaching staff for the Rifles' first season.

The defensive line-backer coach, Mike Dau, was an outstanding guard at Lake Forest College who later played Marine ball for three years and is presently coaching at Lake Forest College.

Former Bears player, Ed Kaminski, has been signed to coach the offensive line. Now a supervisor for Abbott Laboratories and residing in Round Lake, Ed has also played semi-professional football in the Chicago area.

Working with the defensive backs will be Donner Keppler. Donner had coached four years in the Chicago Catholic League before moving to Libertyville.

The youngest member of the Rifles staff is Boston College star, Dan Desmond. Dan lettered three years at Boston College, played semi-professional football in the New England States League, and is presently a sales manager at Hawthorn-Melody Farms Dairy. Don will coach the offensive and defensive line.

Coach Kane will begin begin meeting this week with his coaches to form his offensive and defensive notebook and to organize his player personnel. Player Personnel Manager, Angelo Dabiero, has been contacted by approximately 45 football candidates and is still seeking more. Mr. Dabiero commented, "I am certainly happy with the enthusiasm that former great high school and college stars have in forming this new ball club." Any interested candidates may contact Mr. Dabiero at LO6-7820.

Before you move in know the facts about insurance

Fact 1: Fire insurance alone on home and contents is not enough. Your home could be destroyed by windstorm, explosion or other hazard. Fact 2: Theft coverage of your possessions, at home and away, should be included. Fact 3: A lawsuit judgment against you could cost you everything you own. You need liability insurance. Fact 4: You get all this and more in one Homeowners policy... with one low premium!

Teacher To Attend English Institute

Mr. Kevin Mulhern, teacher of the fifth grade at St. Peter's School in Antioch, has been selected as a participant in an Institute in Applied Linguistics, given by the staff of American English and Linguistics at Chicago Teachers College North, in contract with the U. S. Office of Education.

Two hundred participants were selected from over 830 applications received from throughout the United States. The Institute is one of approximately 100 English Institutes being sponsored this summer under N.D.E.A. It will run from June 28 to July 16.

The purpose of the Institute is to bring to well-qualified in-service English and Language Arts teachers an opportunity to study the newer grammars and to learn about current applications of these.

Historic Honor To Grant Twp. High

For the first time in Lake County history—in so far as is known—two seniors from a single Lake County High School have received major appointments to the U. S.

to the sea.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hauser and son, Kevin of Antioch spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Hauser.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Turnbaugh of Kansasville, Wis., were callers at the home of Mrs. Harley Clark Saturday afternoon.

John Edwards of Libertyville was a caller at the home of his mother, Mrs. Frank Edwards, Saturday evening. Mrs. Bruce Wagner and Miss Ethel Hutchinson of Harvard, Ill., were callers at the home of Mrs. Lyman Bonner, Sunday afternoon.

service academics.

Congressman Robert McClory announced earlier the appointment of David Spencer, at Grant Township High School, as this year's candidate to the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo. The Congressman announced this week the second Grant Township High School appointment of Robert Pike to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland.

David Spencer's appointment came from competition with 12th Congressional District Competitors nominated by the Congressman, while Robert Pike's appointment came as the result of competition with other qualified alternates throughout the nation.

David Spencer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Spencer, 1412 Mudjekeewis Trail, Grant Township. Robert Pike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lois G. Pike of 73 East Grand Ave., Fox Lake.

In extending congratulations Congressman McClory said: "Grant Township High School and its principal, David Schmid, are entitled to share in this honor which David Spencer and Robert Pike have brought to their community and the school. The quality of their academic preparation must be attributed to this fine institution. To these advantages must be added their development of character and excellent family backgrounds and religious and community influences which have brought these fine young men to their positions of excellence."

Congressman McClory directed praise to Ronald Hills of Marengo whose appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy was announced earlier, and to Paul Townsend of Capron appointed to the U. S. Air Force Academy.
